

Dear Franco and Adriana,

I hope this message finds you and your loved ones healthy and safe. We were supposed to gather this weekend and enjoy time together at the Benefactor Brunch. Every year, Julie and I enjoy this very meaningful event in the life of our community, when we celebrate where your generosity and our students' potential meet. I am deeply sorry that we will not be together to gather with you and your scholarship recipients this year as we had planned.

Many of you sent notes of greeting to your scholarship students, and I know your heartfelt messages are an encouragement to them. Now, more than ever, your scholarship support is sustaining our students through these uncertain times. Thank you for your generosity and deep investment in the success of our students.

Though I will not see you this weekend, please know that I remain grateful for all you have done to uphold and uplift the values of Wake Forest.

Until we are able to meet in person, please stay safe.

Sincerely,

Nathan O. Hatch
President
