WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY

Dear Franco and Adriana,

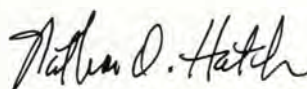

As Wake Forest continues to navigate the unprecedented circumstances of the past months, we remain mindful of our fundamental purpose. Since our founding, our institution has provided opportunity, nurtured the whole person and prepared young people to lead. Thank you for your unwavering belief in our University's Pro Humanitate mission and our proven capacity to transcend challenges. Through your generosity and commitment, we are upholding the promise of Wake Forest.

Now more than ever, I am encouraged by how the Wake Forest community has joined together with renewed energy, shared purpose and financial support. Your gifts have helped fulfill dreams for many students facing significant financial obstacles, and I share their deep gratitude for your generosity. Our students continue to inspire our effort as they enthusiastically explore new knowledge, push personal boundaries and create meaningful relationships.

The Wake Forest campus is thriving because our community of parents, alumni and friends remain steadfast in their belief in Wake Forest and resolute in their focus on the future. Your gifts have had an immediate impact on the student experience, but they are also far-reaching. As our world continues to change and challenge us, the graduates whose lives you have helped transform will serve as leaders in their personal and professional communities for years to come.

Thank you for all you do for your Wake Forest family.

Sincerely,

Nathan O. Hatch
President
